

FRONTOTEMPORAL DEGENERATION CAREGIVER CONFERENCE

Friday, June 7, 2013

University of Pennsylvania

The Penn Frontotemporal Degeneration Center invites you to attend a day-long conference for caregivers of persons with FTD and related conditions such as ALS and Corticobasal Degeneration. This conference is open to family caregivers, health professionals, scientists, students and others with an interest in FTD. This conference will include presentations by Dr. Murray Grossman and a team of experts in the field of FTD. Panel discussions and topic specific break-out groups will provide an opportunity for dialogue.

Conference Speakers Include:

Kurt Brunden, PhD

Lama Chahine, MD

Helen-Ann Comstock, Founding Director, AFTD

Marianna Diloyan, MPH, RN

Paul Feldman, Esquire

Murray Grossman, MD, EdD

Virginia Lee, PhD, MBA

Lauren Massimo, MSN, CNRP

Elisabeth McCarty Wood, MS, CGC

Lauren Elman, MD

Panel Discussion

AFTD, Alzheimer's Association, ALSA, CurePSP

FTD Drug Development

Corticobasal Syndrome & PSP

Keynote Address

Caregiving Challenges

Legal and Long Term Planning

Frontotemporal Degenerative Disorders

Tau Transmission

Decision Making in Advanced Illness

Genetics in FTD

Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis

Caregiver Resources

To Register:

There is no charge to attend this event, but space is limited. Pre-registration is required through our online tool: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/2013FTDCaregiverConference>

Program time: 8:00-5:00 PM includes lunch and morning and afternoon refreshments.

Sponsors:

University of Pennsylvania Frontotemporal Degeneration Center

University of Pennsylvania Department of Neurology

Association for Frontotemporal Degeneration (AFTD)

Institute on Aging (University of Pennsylvania)

Program Location:

University of Pennsylvania
Biomedical Research Building II/III - Auditorium
421 Curie Blvd.
Philadelphia, PA 19104
Pre-registration required

Questions or Concerns? Contact:

Christine Ray, MSW

215-349-5863

rayc@mail.med.upenn.edu

